

Sneak Peek. . . .

Table of Contents

Hiring an Editor

Why You Need a Professional Editor

Types of Editing

Proofreading

Copy Editing

Developmental Editing

Academic Editing

Other Things Editors May Do

Research Assistance

Consulting on Research Design

Helping to Analyze or Interpret Data

Ghost Writing

Mentoring or Coaching

When You Have Special Needs

English as a Second Language

ADHD or Learning Disabilities

Physical Disabilities or Serious Illnesses

Kids and Caregiving

The Hiring Process

Communication Styles

Scope of Work and Timelines

Pricing Models

Accountability and Guarantees

The Writing Process

Aligning Your Dissertation with Your Goals

Knowing Your Why

Positioning Your Dissertation

The A Team: You, Your Chair, Your Committee, and Your Editor

Communication

Workflows

Outlining—The Easiest Way to Save Time, Money, and Headaches

Understanding Dissertation Structure

Chapter I: Introduction

Chapter II: Literature Review

Chapter III: Methodology

Chapter IV: Results

Chapter V: Discussion and Recommendations

Ways to Save Money on Editing

Reference List

Cross-Referencing

Tables and Figures

Appendices

Life Work Balance (aka Avoiding Burnout)

Engaging Your Family and Friends

Talking to Your Boss

Learning to Say No

Asking for Help

Outsourcing

Self-care

Resources